

13TH ANNUAL IRISH FESTIVAL

American Turners of Delaware

Brothersft*

On Saturday, March 11, 2017 the American Turners of Delaware (formerly known as Wilmington Turners) will be holding its 13th annual Irish Festival in celebration of St. Patrick's Day. With over a decade of good times, the festival is a well-established family event catering to all who wish to celebrate the Irish culture and traditions. This all day event has numerous activities planned, including transportation to/from the Wilmington Irish Parade, local Irish dancers, Irish food and kid's games & crafts. The highlights of the festival are the Irish Dancers and performance of Irish singer Paul McLaughlin.
